

Almost Home: The Asian Search of a Geographic Trollop

By Janet Brown

Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 210 pages. Certain that she wants to spend the rest of her life in Bangkok, Janet Brown moves to Thailand, only to find bombs and civil unrest in the Land of Smiles. She sets off to find her new home in Asia, looking in Hong, Kong, Beijing, and Penang with mixed results. In Almost Home, Janet Brown writes with the affability of a wise local whos delighted to stroll with you through her Asian city streets and wryly point out all the things you wouldnt have noticed if youd gone on your own. Thats what travel writing is all about. Colin Cotterill, author of The Coroners Lunch, Grandad Theres a Head on the Beach, and *The Woman Who Wouldnt Die*Janets talent as a traveler is to immerse herself without reservation or motive in the experience, and her talent as a writer is to convey that experience without a filter. Not for her wieldy paragraphs expounding on the social significance of this or her own emotions regarding that. Instead, you open the page and you are, simply, wonderfully, there. Kim Fay, author of *Map of Lost Memories*Janet Browns poignant travelogue is less a testament to the...
